Compared to the active market two weeks ago, steers & heifers only lightly tested with calves mostly $10.00-$20.00 lower & yearlings trading $5.00-$10.00 lower. The feeder cattle market is really feeling the pressure of last weeks feedlot trade which saw the fed cattle prices down nearly 10.00 by the end of the week. Expectations are to see even further price weakness when packers bid on this weeks showlist. Hot & dry weather is also not helping prices as grass is drying up & the heat makes it difficult to handle new purchases.
